Islamophobia is one of the critical issues of the day. President Obama said "Recently, we've heard inexcusable political rhetoric against Muslim Americans that has no place in our country. We have to reject a politics that seeks to manipulate prejudice or bias, and targets people because of religion." The president's speech was a plea for tolerance, a principle that has been the bedrock of American life for more than 200 years.

Please join us for an interesting discussion with one woman who is on the front line. Our doors open at 1:15 for socializing; seating will be on a first-come, first-seated basis.
